Little Women Comes To Town
Beside Weary Packhorse

BURDEN IT CARRIES IS A LONG
ONE CONTAINING THE BODY OF THE LITTLE WOMAN'S HUSBAND

Grizzly Gulch, Cal.—A tired little woman, leading a burro with a loaded pack, came down the mountain into this camp today and in no time at all was transfigured into a pitiful heroine. Every man in the street helped to undo the hitches which fastened a plank coffin to the burro's packsaddle and take it into a house, where the little woman, who had not wept at all, cried her heart out over the body of her husband.

Her name, she presently told her new friends, was Mary Strubling. Her husband, P. T. Strubling, a prospector, was killed, and his partner was badly hurt, last Friday in a cave-in on their claim. She made the injured man as comfortable as she could, put some provisions where he could reach them, and then built the coffin around her husband's body and succeeded in getting it on the burro's back. She walked twenty-four hours with hardly a stop to reach Grizzly Gulch, where her husband might be buried with suitable rites.

Aid has been sent to the injured man.

Mrs. D. L. Kenney writes:—"I cannot sufficiently express my thanks to you for your Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. It has cured my terrible, which has troubled me for over fifty years." All druggists or by mail 50c.

Means Business

That the men behind the new Interurban road between Madisonville and Nortonville mean business, is shown by the preliminary work that is being done. Clarence Nesbit is at work on the surveying part of it and will have a map ready for them in a short time, and then they can see just what it will cost them. That it will be a money maker there is no doubt.

FAITHFUL DOG

Warns the Neighbors of His Master's Death

Apena, Mich., Aug. 20.—From Friday night until yesterday afternoon a small water spaniel lay whimpering in front of his master's shanty. Dozens of people noticed the dog's peculiar actions and passed on. Several offered the animal food, but it refused to eat. Finally it ceased to whine and began to yelp, and late yesterday succeeded in inducing neighbors to enter the dilapidated building. There they found the body of Frank Cleveland, a local junk dealer, whose sole companion for years had been his dog.

Cleveland is believed to have died of heart disease.

Trying To Find Uses For Ailanthus

Excelsior can not be made from any or all woods. According to the popular notion it is a product of wood waste, but this is not usually the case. For example the forest service, which has been experimenting to discover uses for ailanthus, sometimes known as Paradise Tree and Tree of Heaven, finds that it probably will not make good excelsior.

There are great quantities of ailanthus in the East and especially in the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys, where it has been naturalized from specimens introduced from China until it is now more abundant than some of the native species.

Its wood has been used in small quantities for boxes and crates, but no other use has been reported. The Indiana State board of forestry and the forest service co-operated in securing a small consignment for an excelsior factory, where it was found that ailanthus does not work up into good excelsior because the product was not springy and the strands tended to break and crumble under pressure. This may have been due in some measure to the fact that the wood has been kiln dried, and further experiments will be undertaken to see whether air-dried material after a six-months seasoning will be more satisfactory.

Dirt Flying

Rooster Protects Child From Snake

Seubenville, Ohio, Aug. 19.—When Pete, a big "shuffler" game cock, ran to greet his 3 year old playmate, Harry Finley, here, he was confronted by a big copperhead snake, which had drawn his head preparatory to striking the child in the face with his fangs.

Pete never hesitated. Like a flash he was at the reptile. In the fight that followed, the game cock drove his spur through the copperhead's brain, and, strange enough, came out of the conflict unscathed.

Mr. David Hayle Entertains.

Morton's Gap, Ky., Aug. 20.—Mr. Hayle's performance at the Opera House last night was well received by a very appreciative audience. We have never seen his equal as a female, or as a female impersonator. His transformations, manner, walk, and voice were perfect and his costumes were beautiful and up-to-date. We wish him the success his efforts and ability deserves.

Green is the man who made the record flight in Cardui Flyer No 1. over Lookout Mountain during the U. C. V. Reunion last May. He was the first man to attempt that dangerous flight, refused by so many other prominent aviators. A feature of his exhibition next month will be a flight in his Cardui Flyer No 2, equipped with hydroplanes, up the Tennessee River. This will be the first hydroplane flight ever made by any Southern aviator.

Visitors to the G. A. R. Reunion will do well not to miss these flights by the famous aviator, free for all, and should look out for the dollars bills, which he drops among the crowds below, as he goes hurtling through the air.

MEETS TRAGIC DEATH

Russian Countess Ends Life in Railway Train

Paris, Aug. 19.—St. Petersburg dispatches report the tragic death of the beautiful Countess Tarnowski, who three years ago was sentenced to Venice to eight years' imprisonment for plotting with her lover the death of his rival for her affections.

The Countess, who was subsequently released from imprisonment, was found dead in a railway carriage between St. Petersburg and Kieff, whether from suicide or murder could not be learned.

Russian authorities ascribe her death to suicide. The Countess was found in a locked compartment of a first class carriage when the train reached Bombrivitz. She was hanging by a towel from the luggage rack and a large sum of money and valuable jewels found on her person, the authorities say, indicated the woman was not murdered.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially in this case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by All Druggists.

Water Low

Not for years has the water been as low in the lake as it is now, and unless there is a rain soon the water supply over town will have to be cut out. The people in the city should be very careful and not waste any more than they are compelled to. They will have to stop the use of the hydrants for watering the yards and streets for a short time until there is a rain. Enough for fire will be kept if possible, and the mines and railroad have to use water. Don't waste any more water until we have a rain.
